

Wellington Peace Heritage Walk

Route: The depicted route starts at the Civic Square, goes through a couple of sites in the Central Business District and along the waterfront before taking you up the Cable Car, down through the Botanical Gardens, through parliament grounds and finishing at the railway station. Doing the walk in reverse - starting at the railway station and ending at Civic Square - is also lovely, but involves more uphill walking.

There are many trails in the Botanical Gardens to get you between the peace sites there, with additional attractions along the way. We leave it to you to choose your preferred path.

For more information on trails in the Botanic Gardens see www.friendswbg.org.nz

Peace Heritage Walk Wellington

Civic square sculpture
by Neil Dawson

A walk visiting some of Wellington's Peace heritage treasures: Sculptures, memorials, trees and historic sites dedicated to peace, tolerance and understanding.

The Peace Foundation

www.peace.net.nz supported by

Living Streets Aotearoa
www.livingstreets.org.nz